LAND DEGRADATION & REHABILITATION

Issue No. 1, APRIL

Afforestation as an Interim Measure to Improve Reclaimed Lands in Singapore: S. K. Lee, K. C. Goh and S. O. Yee 1

Assessment of Soil Degradation in the Canary Islands (Spain): A. Rodríguez Rodríguez, M. C. González-Soto, L. A. Hernández Hernández, C. C. Jiménez Mendoza, M. J. Ortega González, P. A. Padrón Padrón, J. M. Torres Cabrera and G. E. Vargas Chávez 11

Human Use of the Sand Dune Ecosystem in the Semiarid zone of the Rajasthan Desert, India: M. Kumar and M. M. Bhandari 21

Avoidance of Degradation of Alpine Pasture Through Grazing Management: Investigations of Change in Vegetation Nutrition Characteristics as a Consequence of Sheep Grazing at Different Periods of the Growing Season: I. Andrighetto, G. Cozzi, P. Berzaghi and M. Zancan 37

Enhancement of Revegetation on Construction Fill by Fertilizer and Topsoil Application: Effect on Mycorrhizal Infection: V. P. Claassen and R. J. Zasoski 45

BOOK REVIEW 59

Issue No. 2, JULY

Implications of Climate Change Scenarios for Soil Erosion Potential in the USA: D. L. Phillips, D. White and C. B. Johnson 61

Frentes de Trabalho: Potentials and Limitations of Large-scale Labour Employment for Soil and Water Conservation in Cape Verde: B. Haagsma and C. Reij 73

Establishment of Trees on Mixtures of Pulverized Fuel Ash and Gypsum. I. Tree Performance: A. J. Moffat and P. J. A. Shaw 87

Environmental Consequences of Land Degradation in Coastal Drainage Basins of North Queensland, Australia: Influence of Farming Practices: A. V. Arakel, T. Loder, D. McConchie and C. Pailles 99

Issue No. 3, OCTOBER

Evaluation of Eucalyptus camaldulensis (river gum) and Chamaecytisus proliferus (tagasaste) for Salinity Control by Agroforestry: J. Eastham, P. R. Scott and R. A. Steckis . . . 113

Establishment of Trees on Mixtures of Pulverized Fuel Ash and Gypsum. Part II: Nutrition and Trace Elements: P. J. A. Shaw and A. J. Moffat 123

Modifications of the Phosphorus Cycle with Development of Lignite Mine Soils: M. C. Trasar-Cepeda, E. de Blas, I. Garcia-Rodeja, M. C. Leirós and F. Gil-Sotres . . 131

Losing Ground? Soil Loss and Erosion in the Highlands of Papua New Guinea: P. Sillitoe 143

Determining the Extent and Spectral Separability of Industrially Despoiled Land in South Wales from Satellite Sensor Data: G. M. Foody and M. E. Cutler 167

Spreading Deserts or Spatially Confined Environmental Impacts? Land Degradation and Cattle Ranching in the Kalahari Desert of Botswana: J. S. Perkins and D. S. G. Thomas . . 179

BOOK REVIEW 195

Issue No. 4, DECEMBER

Special Issue on the June 1992 Conference of the Society for Environmental Toxicology and Chemistry (SETAC) Guest Editors: G. P. Hekstra, E. Ivanova and J. H. Weverling

Soil, Sediment and Groundwater Deterioration as a Result of the Accumulation of Persistent Chemicals: Towards a European Research Programme: P.-D. Hansen and G. Varallyay . 197

Report of the Closing Session at the SETAC Conference, Potsdam, Germany, 24 June 1992: Chemical Time Bombs: G. P. Hekstra, W. M. Stigliani and G. R. B. Ter Meulen-Smidt . 199

Ecological Sustainability and the Use of Chemicals: Is Ecotoxicological Risk Assessment Doing its Job Properly? (An Introduction to Chemical Time Bombs): G. P. Hekstra . . . 207

Proposed Assessment of the Vulnerability of European Soils to Pollution Using a SOTER Shell Approach: N. H. Batjes, V. W. P. Van Engelen and L. R. Oldeman 223

Phosphorus Saturation in Soils and Groundwaters: H. Behrendt and A. Boekhold . . 233

Assessment of Pollution of Groundwater by Atrazine: G. Kuhnt and O. Fränzle . . . 245

Salinization of Groundwater and the Mobilization of Micropollutants: Effect on the Food Chain: M. C. Th. Scholten and I. Szabolcs 253

Effects of Stopping Liming on Abandoned Agricultural Land: D. Hesterberg 257

Environmental Conditions and Chemical Time Bomb Hazards in Poland: H. Smal . . 269

Chemical Time Bombs Related to Forestry Practice: Distribution and Behaviour of Pollutants in Forest Soils: R. Mayer 275

Riverine and Estuarine Sedimentation of Pollutants and Leaks from Sludges and Wastes: Analytic, Prognostic, Experimental and Remedial Approaches: U. Förstner 281

Pollution of Sediments in the Lake Ladoga Catchment Area and the Gulf of Finland: Influencing Factors and Processes: V. Ikonnikov 297

Sediment Pollution in the Southern Baltic: A. Lewandowski and T. Szczepanska . . . 307

Potential Chemical Time Bombs in the Schelde Estuary: G. T. M. Van Eck and N. M. de Rooij 317

Soil and Sediment Contamination by Persistent Organic Pollutants in the Moravian and Slovakian Parts of the Danube Catchment Area and Some Bohemian Sites in the Elbe Catchment Area: I. Holoubek 333

Sources of Heavy Metal Pollution in the Rhine Basin: A. Rautengarten 339

Heavy Metal and Chlorinated Hydrocarbon Contamination of Selected Aquatic Sediments from the Berlin Area: H.-J. Pachur, M. Ahrens, M. Ricking and H.-P. Röper 351

Low Volatile Chlorinated Hydrocarbons in Aquatic Sediments in Berlin and Surrounding Areas: K. Terytze and W. Mende 361

High Levels of Chlorinated Aromatic Compounds in Deep Rhine Sediments with Special Reference to Microbial Transformations: J. E. M. Beurskens, J. de Wolf and H. van den Heuvel 367

Dyke-protected Floodplains: A Possible Chemical Time Bomb?: J. Japenga and W. Salomons 373

Effects of Pollution from Oil Shale Mining in Estonia: L. Vallner and K. Sepp 381

Effects of Heavy Metals from Mining and Industry on Some Rivers in Poland: an Already Exploded Chemical Time Bomb?: J. Suschka 387

Quaternary Aquifer Pollution in the Notec Valley, Poland: K. Polanska 393

Chemical Time Bombs from Landfills: Appraisal and Modelling: D. Boels and G. Fleming . 399

Effects of Sewage Sludge Disposal: J. J. Van den Berg 407

Chemical Dump Sites in Poland: J. Zurek, A. Samsonowicz and E. Gosk 415

Long-term Environmental Risks for Soils, Groundwaters and Sediments in the Danube Catchment Area: The Danube Chemical Time Bombs Project: G. Várallyay, W. Salomons and I. Czíkós 421

Contribution of Czecho-Slovakia to the Chemical Time Bombs Study in the Danube Catchment Area: P. Petrowič 433

Technical, Policy and Legal Aspects of Chemical Time Bombs with Emphasis on the Action Required in the Eastern Europe: B. G. Appelgren and S. Burchi 437
